

LyondellBasell undergoing turnaround at Texas methanol plant in April: sources
Platts.com, 31st Mar 2017

LyondellBasell will start a maintenance turnaround in April at a methanol plant in Channelview, Texas, market sources said Friday.

The Channelview plant has a capacity of 780,000 mt/year.

The company did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Market sources said the turnaround was planned but were unclear on the expected duration. A trader said the turnaround may last more than four weeks.

In spot markets, US methanol was assessed Friday at 104.75-105.25 cents/gal FOB USG for April and May.
